

Clever Collections
 Wednesday, 28 November, 2007

9:00am		Registration
Lecture Room 1
9:30am	Opening plenary	Dr Adrian Burton / Professor Leon Sterling Welcome and introduction Professor Noshir Contractor, Jane S. & William J. White Professor of Behavioral Sciences at Northwestern University From disasters to WoW: enabling communities with cyberinfrastructure
10:30am		Morning tea
		Lecture Room 1	Lecture Room 2
11:00am		Dr Andrew Treloar, Director and Chief Architect, ARCHER, Monash University Taking aim and (mostly) hitting our targets: from DART to ARCHER	Gavan McCarthy, Director, eScholarship Research Centre, University of Melbourne & Dr Joanne Evans, Research Fellow, eScholarship Research Centre Collections, contextualization and continuity: connecting our research past
11:30am		Dianna Hardy, ARCHER Project Officer, James Cook University, School of Maths, Physics, & Information Technology, Matthew Morgan, ARCHER Project Officer, JCU & Ian Atkinson, Associate Professor, JCU Lightweight video annotation & presentation: applications in digital history	Stewart Wallace, Project Manager, Dictionary of Sydney, Steven Hayes, Technical Coordinator, University of Sydney, Archaeological Computing Lab, The Dictionary of Sydney Project
12:00pm		Stuart Hungerford, ANU Supercomputer Facility, Australian National University Clever Collections at the ANU Supercomputer Facility	Jesmond Calleja, Senior Registrar - Collection Systems Integration, Art Gallery of New South Wales Global access to cultural heritage
12:30pm		Lunch
Lecture Room 1
1:30pm	Featured speakers	Dr Elizabeth Webster, Melbourne Institute of Applied Economic and Social Research, University of Melbourne Disembodied knowledge: the importance of intangible capital
		Jock Phillips, General Editor, Te Ara: the Online Encyclopedia of New Zealand Research scholars and web users - Te Ara's attempt to bridge this digital divide
3:00pm		Afternoon tea
3:30pm		Dr Warwick Cathro, Assistant Director General, National Library of Australia Building the Mother of all Collections: the future of the National Library's Resource Discovery Services
4:00pm		Alison Stevenson, Director, New Zealand Electronic Text Centre, Victoria University of Wellington and Mr Conal Tuohy, Senior Programmer, New Zealand Electronic Text Centre Topic Maps and Entity Authority Systems - Linking Content and Collections
4:30pm		Dr Nick Thieberger, ARC Postdoctoral Fellow, Department of Linguistics, University of Melbourne, University of Melbourne Doing it by ourselves: online curation of humanities research outputs
5:00pm		Close

To be followed by the Conference Dinner at University House

Clever Collections

Thursday, 29 November, 2007

Lecture Room 1
9:00am	Leo Monus, Software Engineer, Australian National University Integrating repositories with researcher environments
9:30am	Dr Ashley Buckle, NHMRC Senior Research Fellow, Monash University The Australasian Repository for Diffraction Images
10:00am	Stuart Ramsden, Researcher & Visualization Programmer, ANU Supercomputer Facility, Australian National University Publishing computational experiments at the Australian National University - the EPINET Story.
10:30am Morning tea
	Lecture Room 1	Lecture Room 2
11:00am	Professor Jane Hunter, Professorial Research Fellow, University of Queensland Enhancing research collections by harvesting community annotations	 Scott Yeadon, Project Development Portfolio Co-ordinator, APSR The Repository Interoperability Framework
11:30am	Dr Chi Nguyen, RAMP Project Manager, Macquarie University Muradora: A turnkey GUI for the Fedora Repository supporting federated identity & flexible access control	 Chris Blackall Australian Partnership for Sustainable Repositories How to discover the data collection you need
12:00pm	Dr Nick Nicholas, Business Analyst, PILIN Project, Monash University Integrating Persistent Identifiers into repository workflows	 David Pearson, APSR Project Office, National Library of Australia Order from chaos: The AONS2 Tool for managing file formats
12:30pm	Dr Nigel Ward, Technical Director, Australian ADL Partnership Lab Using persistent identifiers to build clever repository services	 Steven Hayes, Business Development Manager, Archeological Computing Laboratory, University of Sydney Field Helper - how to submit to a repository without knowing what a repository is
1:00pm Lunch
	Lecture Room 1	Lecture Room 2
2:00pm	James T. Williams, Information Systems Manager, The University of Melbourne eScholarship Research Centre The Cultural Variome: humans and data mutations	Baden Hughes, Enterprise Information Architect, The University of Melbourne Object Re-use and Exchange (ORE): practice & experience in the Open Language Archives Community
2:30pm	Jon Smillie, ANU Supercomputer Facility, Australian National University Data management & grid methods in astronomy	Simon Porter, Information Manager (Research), University of Melbourne Research Project information: design implications for the next generation of research systems
3:00pm	Katherine Manson, Bioinformatics Research Fellow, Melbourne Neuropsychiatry Centre, University of Melbourne Building an integrated database of mental illness data.	Martin Borchert, Associate Director, Access Services, Griffith University Innovations for Griffith Research Online (GRO)
3:30pm A very short break
Lecture Room 1
3:45pm Closing plenary	Dr Rhys Francis, Executive Director, Australian eResearch Infrastructure Council Data horizons: what's in store for online collections of research materials
4:30pm Close

 The presentation by Scott Yeadon at 11:00am will be one hour & the subsequent three presentations will be 20 minutes each.